“ As a little girl, my parents would bring me to the Maple Lawn which we affectionately just referred to as, “Carl’s.” I will always remember sitting at the bar drinking Shirley Temples. Carl would always give me 5 cherries.

“ I just learned about Carl's passing from the Manhattan College newsletter. I first met Carl in September 1968 as we were classmates from 1968 to 1972 at Manhattan College. Carl was a gifted student, very intelligent, with an easy going personality. When I would see Carl in later years at the Manhattan College Engineers gatherings he would always come over with a warm welcome. At one of these gatherings Carl told me about his ownership of the Maple Lawn Hotel and his excitement of managing the Hotel. Anyone that knew Carl, was fortunate to have him as a friend. RIP Carl. Best, Brian M. Rohan, P.E. (Carl's MC Class of 1972 Classmate).

“ To my friend Carl
I have many memories of times I spent with you.
The first time you handed me a sandwich. To bring all the toy for tots to you and Maria. As many times as you told people don't pet Rusty.
And what do they do. You would just roll your eye's. Or when the 2 lady's would start to talk with their windshield wipper hands. I will miss you my friend. Love you and give Maria a huge for me.

“ So many memories over the years. First meeting Carl when he worked in Westwood over the winters and visiting him in the summers when he returned to Round Top. Bringing a little more craziness into his life when he became a first time fur dad with Grizzly or "Uncle Carl" to my daughters. The many tributes to Carl brings to mind the time we went pumpkin picking. I strictly warned my 4 year old that she could only pick a pumpkin that she could get to the register. Much to my surprise she showed up with a huge pumpkin. I quickly realized that "Uncle Carl" had helped her roll it across the whole field. When I scolded him he replied "she got it to the register like you said with a little help from her friends" Carl gave a "little help" to many friends when their load was to heavy to bear. I am going to miss your wit and kindness. Rest in Peace my friend.

“ I last saw Carl in October 2018 at Cardinal Spellman H.S. during the very happy 50th anniversary of our 1968 graduation. It was good to see him and so many of our classmates. I'd say that he enjoyed himself. Thus, it was saddening to hear of his death from my cousin, Bob Bechner, who knew Carl. May he rest in peace, dwelling now in the mansion prepared for him and may all who mourn him see him again at their appointed time.

“ A few photos that I found. My father and Carlo on his confirmation; me on Carlo's horse; and Carlo, me and my brother, Alfie, in 1959.

“ Carlo and I are distant cousins, and yes, to our family he was always Carlo not Carl. My father, Adolph Airone, was his godfather. Some of my fondest memories are the days we spent at the Maple Lawn Hotel; the bowling game, the jukebox, and the enormous fireplace in the recreation room. Sitting at the bar drinking Shirley Temples and feeling so grown up. Swimming in the pool and sitting on the statue of the deer. Hiking in the woods with Carlo and his convincing me that we were lost and scaring me every time. And riding Carlo’s horse. I was so jealous that he owned a horse. I loved hearing the waiter ringing the bell for meals and eating incredible food – except for Ossi Buco. No hungry eight-year-old should be made to eat that, but to this day every time I see it on a menu, it makes me smile.

When Uncle Freddie, Aunt Louise and Carlo were back in the Bronx, I remember my parents, grandmother and two brothers traveling there from Queens on Sundays for dinner. Since we were the same age, only five days apart, Carlo and I were always inseparable on those visits.

Fast forward a lifetime and I bought a cabin in Delaware county and would stop by to visit Carlo from time to time. I wish it had been more often. I will never forget that he made the effort and came to Long Island when our father passed away in 2017.

Rest in peace, Carlo. We lost a good one when you left us. Say hello to Maria, because I know she’s been waiting for you.

Your cousin, Leni

I'm Alfred, Carlo's cousin as well - "Alfie" to the family. A lot of my sister Leni's memories are ones I share - a week in the summers of many years at the Maple Lawn, Carlo's parents rushing around taking care of the guests, even the osso buco. I remember the quiet at night (except for the noise of insects) and the amazing skies on clear nights, and the car rides in the dark down to the little store in Round Top where they had pinball machines. At home in the Bronx, Carlo had a black metal box - I think it was actually a kind of savings box - that acted like a slot machine, and we loved to play with it.

Rest in peace, Carlo. I'm glad you had so many friends around you during your years. And I'm not surprised.
