“ Little Darryl hearing your name never surprised me you were that type of kid. Hearing this news put my head in spinmode, I know your in a better place with no pain tearing up the sky with your laughter n crazyness. Your children will always be loved and have memories of you to grow on. Your mom she's always been a tough cookie this is the worst news a parent wants to hear but she'll put a smile on her face and be happy for you her son always. Friends and family will all hurt In many different ways show emotions n hide their fear but know this They Love You, love you
