“ I am so very sorry to hear that you passed away. You were on your way to big things and you not being here for the ones who love you is a tragic loss. May you fly with the angels and I hope you being with your Aunts Erin and Andrea, your Uncle Robert, your Grandmother and your loving father bring them some comfort during this troubling time. Only the good die young and although your family has been misunderstood by many, there is no doubt they were filled with love and possessed golden hearts. May you RIP and know that Gi and your mom will get through this. They will see you in their dreams and hold you in their hearts forever and a day!

“ Desiree was destined to be my best friend as I was hers. Our mothers were best friends as children and it was our fate to be friends too.. even if that weren't the case, even if I could have chosen my person from a line up.. I would choose her a million times over. She was the life of every room. She was loyal and true. She was my calm in the center of the storm. She was brave and funny and unwaveringly kind. It's been a week since I found out she was gone. And while I get some peace knowing she is with uncle Darnell now, with her father... I am lost without her. I will love you every minute of every day for the rest of my life.

“ *My heart is broken. This is just tragic.
I am sooo sorry Liz, Giovanna, Ocean, Chantel, Aunt Wendy, Cousin Gabbi, husband Singh and the rest of the family.
The obituary is so complimentary of our little Desi, I called her Honey Singh, it was our little goofy joke and she called me Aunt Pucci instead of Gucci. Desi was tons of fun, sweet and kind, and fresh and saucy, but loving and good!!! I will never forget visiting her with the babies and seeing her rise above, attend school, all alone and against all odds - she was amazing, just like her mommy, nanny and sister. Love to you all xoxo
We have a merciful God and He knew His daughter-she is Home with Him-no more sorrow, no more pain for Desi.*
