“ My condolences to the Pasalacqua family. Ed was always a gentleman no matter where we met. The best bus driver my kids had. My son had gotten in trouble and was made to ride the bus instead of driving to school. Ed pulled up, put the bus in park, crossed his arms and wouldn't let my boys on the bus. He asked: "To what do we owe the pleasure of having the Dwyer boys on the bus today?" When the guilty son answered, Ed let them on the bus. A happy, funny memory. But a lesson for the entire bus at the same time. Bless you Ed.

“ Ed I will miss the motorcycle rides, seeing you sitting at the firehouse intersection waving hello, how you made Monica laugh at school, and just hanging around at the Biergarten. The Maassmann-Nussbaumer family will cherish all the laughs.
