“ With much sadness I have just learned of James passing-I first met James in 2009 when he started working at Lowe’s-I had the pleasure of working with James. In the time we worked together and I got to know James, We shared many laughs as well as many chats, that I fondly remember. James also shared with me his health issues, which I could relate to as my brother had been dealing with the same. James would always have a huge smile when he talked of Gail (whom I had the pleasure of meeting at the store) and of his dear family. Although we emailed over the years our lives got busy and we drifted apart- I had just recently said to my wife “I wonder how James is doing, gotta mail him. Today I saw the Obituary and was overwhelmed with sadness—To Gail and family we extend our deepest heart felt sympathy - we have lost one of the great ones- Goodbye old friend

We send our sympathy and we're so sad to hear of Jim's recent illness and passing.
He was always friendly and kind and we held him in high regard. He was most certainly very proud of his family and you were all blessed to have him as he was the epitome of a true family man. Jim was truly a gentleman.
We know that he will be missed by many.

“ I will sure miss my goofy Uncle Jim! So glad we had some time together over the last few years. Especially glad that my daughter Hannah got to know him, too. His sense of humor and love of karaoke are the memories I will cherish most. Love to the whole family from your cousin Sue!

“ Dear Gail & Family: I am writing this through my tears. Interesting, I woke up very early this morning as I just had had a very real dream of Jim and then I had the news from Cindy. Jim was bigger than life. How could you not love that personality? And his comedic style was a guaranteed laugh. While many years have separated as our families grew, my memories of our early adult years are filled with smiles of our very special group with you and Jim such a central part of that. May your love for one another and faith guide you through this painful time, knowing that he will forever be with you. You are his proudest legacy.....with much love & sympathy.

“ Uncle Jim always had a smile on his face and enthusiasm in his voice. I immediately think about our many Thanksgivings together and how excited I would get knowing we would all be together. I am thinking and praying for all of you knowing God will provide a sense of peace even within your grief. Sending you all my love.

“ To Gail and all your children and grands.....as I sit here in my own grief and sadness, I cannot imagine, or maybe I can, what you are going through. Jim was one of a kind, a dreamer, always looking for the pot of gold. Well, he found it....in his family...in each of you. When the pain of loss begins to ease, smile, with the amazing memories we are gifted with when we think of him.
Our love and prayers to you all John 3:16
