“ Jessica was the most fun loving the most beautiful woman and I am, truly blessed to have shared the last few years of her life with her . She and I had so many crazy adventures that it is hard to imagine someone so full, of life gone.

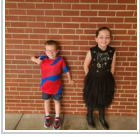

The kids and I have lost so much

She would go to such extremes to make our occasions in life so special. She often sacrificed her time and effort to do over the top birthday parties for the kids and me. Sadly her birthday was in February and many times our finances did not allow us to, give back the kindness she showered us with. I did however make every effort to give her anything I could year round. Anyone who knew her knows It was almost impossible to, say no to her.

She shined so brightly that the world will always be a dimmer place for r me without her. I prayed so many times for God to give me her pain and take me instead so the kids did not loose such a wonderful mom. Sadly I will have to do my best to smile and be strong and give our children a life she would have been proud of.

I thank God for the time he allowed me with her even though a thousand years would have never been enough. We had a very hard last year but despite the obstacles we faiced we were never truly apart. We had spent many days and nights planning our future and how we could raise the kids together despite all the adversity we had against us. I'm sorry that I will never get the chance to give her the loving life we were planning. May God hold her tightly until I join her in heaven. I love you Jessica Lee Morris until, I see you again please watch over us from heaven.
