“ I worked with John at the New York City Transit Command Center for many years. John was very kind and patient as he taught me some of the jobs associated with working there. He also did my taxes for many years and gave me advice about the type of camera I should get, as he was interested in photography at that time. I also looked forward to receiving his homegrown garlic every year. My deepest condolences to John's, family and friends, especially Angela who he spoke about often. Rest in peace, my friend.
