“ I’m way behind on the news and just found out Kyle passed away. I’m so very sorry for your loss. I remember Christmas 2016 Kyle came over to my house to help me and my daughter decorate. She spent most of the time snuggled with our kitty on the couch reminiscing about when she would decorate with her mom and her sister wishing she could be spending the time with them. It wasn’t taken personal at all, I was just glad we were able to give her a small slice of time where she could just be for a bit. She was such a beautiful soul, and had such an infectious smile that she shared with everyone. It’s still got me in shock that she’s gone. I hope she’s happy now and isn’t hurting anymore. She deserves that and so much more. Much love to you Kyle.. You are so very missed. ❤️❤️

“ I knew Kyle for a short time. Kyle to me was a very beautiful woman, but also very sad. I know that there were things she wanted in her life, but was always put them aside. I know that the time I knew her, she made me feel special. Rest in peace Kyle, may the lord give you the peace that you have always looked for. I’ll never forget the letter you wrote me, thank you John

“ There is an old Irish saying that says;

when it rains the day after a person dies, it means that the angels are weeping with joy to welcome one of their own to home to heaven.

The day after Jim told me of Kyle, I heard the rain lashing down & I thought

Ah, of course- she is an angel now.

I saw her a few times as a little tot of 5 or 6 and thought her the most beautiful and beguiling child.

My prayers are with you all at this deeply sad and tragic time.

“ My sweet Kyle. I have known you since before kindergarten. You were a different weird just like me and the most accepting nonjudgmental kind hearted person. You were my happy little soul and just floated your way through life with grace. I am so sorry this has happened but I know you are embracing your next journey and being a bada$$ elsewhere now. I remember a few years after high school I came over to your moms house and you were flying around on the four wheeler around the pond, you flipped that four wheeler in jeans and a tank top rolled like 3 times and got up ran over and hugged me like nothing happened. You were so awesome. God you will be missed. I am sorry I let so much time go between us, I know you came and visited me Monday night and you let me know it will be OK. Thank you for the closure I needed. You are forever in my heart. -Dani
