“ Where do I start? My heart is breaking. Prayers go first to the family that I haven't seen in many years. I left Catskill in the late 60's. Linda & I grew up together. We got in a lot of trouble together (in those days it was trouble), today not so much. She ran away from home once and hid next to my bed (a block away). We hung out all over town, in Woodstock, went to the city. I loved her so much I didn't even mind when she married two, yes two guys I was "in love" with.

I am so happy that during my last visit home, I made it a point to track her down for a visit even though I was there for only an overnight. I will miss her so very much. Even though our contact was only through Facebook recently. I wish I knew how sick she was. I would have made an effort to visit one more time. She was one of the best, kindest people with the biggest heart I have ever known. Thanks for the memories my friend. Rest in peace, without pain. Love you, Debbie Patt (Klein) xox

“ I am so sorry for your loss. It's never easy losing a mom, dad, a sister, brother, a spouse, a child or friend. All though they are gone our memories can not be stolen away. Memories helps us keep them alive eternally. Talk and laugh about them I am sure they will be watching. Hugs to all!
