“ I remember being new to the family and she would always make it a point to talk to me and make me feel special. I was drawn to her in a room full of people and she quickly became "my" aunt. She always had the best conversations with me and I felt like she truly understood me. The last thing she said when I told her to be strong and fight this is, "pretty soon it will be spring and George and you will be camping with your beautiful family making memories. I love you all. I smile when I think about how much you enjoy camping and each other. Nothing about herself. That sums her up!!! She was a compassionate and genuine soul. I will miss her. ❤️😭
