“ Sharing Christmas eve this year with Nicole and her family, gave me insight into her world, a world that surrounded her children with love. When she smiled, she glowed and when those babies looked at mom it completed a circle of love between them. Nicole left this earth, her children and family much too soon but for reasons that aren't ours to question. God had a greater plan for Nicole and while it is hard to accept she left behind many family and friends to help guide her children and reaffirm to them that mommy loved them and keep her memory alive. Bless these children, Nicole and her family and friends, give them the strength to continue on in her memory.
