“ It was only last week, as I entered Price Chopper, the thought that I had not seen Pete in quite a while came to me. He often worked different shifts, but when we saw each other, we'd stop to chat and catch up with things as he continued to assemble the produce. I knew Pete since 1982 and thought maybe this cheerful and funny guy had finally decided to move down to Florida permanently to be with his uncle. Yesterday I read that he had passed on. It is sad that this pleasant, smart fellow has left us so soon. The world will be a little less bright without his smile. Rest in heavenly peace Pete. My sincere condolences to all the family.

“ This was such a fun special time i shared with Peter. He loved nature, and loved walking around this park looking at all the animals, especially our hippo friend Lu. It was so cute that they had the park decorated for the holidays. There was another time in the spring that we were able to visit. We walked around the ruins of an old mill, went to the beach and looked for feral monkeys on Monkey Island...i still think he was joking about the monkeys, and is probably still laughing at me about it. I wish i had some more pictures to share, and i know i have more somewhere but these were the only 2 i found that showed his fun personality. Im really glad to have these memories, and i will miss his messages, funny jokes, and stories. Sending prayers and condolences to his family and friends. 🙏 🕯
